The Library has purchased Cinahl Complete from Ebsco giving trust staff access to more than 700 new online journal titles. The new package replaces the Cinahl with Full Text package and considerably expands what is available to NHS staff nationally. New Services for SWFT Community Staff (especially in the North)

We are currently developing services with the Partnership Trust Library Service to offer more library access to our books. Most importantly it is now possible for Education Centre Library books to be sent to Partnership Trust libraries for SWFT staff to collect (and return!) there. Just log in to our catalogue, check the title and click on Pick up Location. So for staff not on the Warwick Hospital site, choose your nearest Partnership Trust library: Brian Oliver Centre, Caludon Centre or Manor Court libraries. SWFT staff can also borrow Partnership Trust library books.

Please note that the libraries connected to UHCW (Health Information Centre, Rugby and CSB) and at George Eliot Hospital are not currently participating in this scheme. SWFT staff not based near a Partnership Trust library can still ask for books to be sent to them at any SWFT location.

Any Partnership Trust staff reading this can note that it is now possible to borrow Education Centre Library books from any of your libraries.

We've rearranged the Library

We spent some time in the quiet days at the end of August re-arranging the library! We've tried to achieve better spacing of the book shelves allowing easier circulation and improved access. The more heavily used areas are now further away from the study desks by the windows. We have also brought the nursing books more into the centre of the room and away from the most popular desks for quiet study. We hope that this will make the nursing shelves much easier to browse.

All books are of course on our catalogue at <https://war.koha-ptfs.co.uk>.

New Training Service being developed

Also being developed with the Partnership Trust Library Service is an enhanced training service to make training in literature searching, full-text online journals and databases (such as Medline, Cinahl or the Cochrane library) more available and with stronger marketing. Particularly we will be participating in the library 'drop in' sessions regularly held by the PT training staff.

At the moment plans are developing, so watch this space.

NEW Management Books Shelves

As part of our re-arrangement of the library we've brought the management books into the centre of the room.

These are now very much easier to get to (and well lit!). Subjects include leadership, mentoring, research and statistics.

Recent titles include How to Lead and The Mindfulness Solution.

We are in the process of compiling a list of our management and related titles.

We always welcome suggestions for new management books.
